Abstract

Scope of the abstract: approx. 200 words.

General content of the report: This report describes the course of the internship, the tasks and projects carried out and the experiences gained. The own activities (projects) are of course the focus and form the main part of the report. If many small projects were worked on, some of them should be described in more detail as examples. In addition to the actual work, the following other aspects should also be taken into account:

- Workflows within the company or in projects (graphic representations can be useful here),
- Working and management style, communication within the company,
- External communication (customers, partners),
- Time situation, deadline problems,
- Embedding in the team, social experiences,
- Use of special techniques, methods and tools,
- Important challenges or difficulties,
- Requirements with regard to training during studies (knowledge that can be used well, deficits).

The following chapter headings are only intended to serve as an orientation for the structure of the report; you can of course decide on the specific division and wording yourself.
